Subject: Professional & Staff Development - new webpage

IVC team,

To help with finding information about Professional & Staff Development (under the HR website), we have created a new webpage which we hope will answer some common questions and provide upcoming training opportunities:

<http://www.imperial.edu/index.php?pid=5278>

We want your feedback, suggestions, and training events! If you have ideas on improving the site or would like to post information about a professional development opportunity for others to consider please just forward them to me.

Thank you,

Travis Gregory, M.Ed., SPHR
